

Supporting the Integration of Migrant women, Refugees and Asylum seekers

SIMRA's II general objective is to foster active participation of migrant/asylum seeking/refugee women in the 'host' society by developing, implementing and evaluating a pilot intervention scheme. This is expected to create the social space for social interaction to take place, on the premise that the more dynamic and inclusive the interaction, the more successful the integration.

Supporting the Integration of Migrant women, Refugees and Asylum seekers

To achieve that, the SIMRA II Project brings together 9 partners from 5 EU countries, including facilities in 5 cities concerning different aspects of migration in Europe. Aiming at fostering active participation of women-third country nationals in the involved EU member states and considering the access to equal opportunities as a means towards active participation, the Project builds upon successful methodologies, tools and practices created by the partners through support and empowerment services, skills assessment and training, gender and migrant oriented practices facilitating access to equal opportunities at education and employment, as well as initiatives facilitating interaction in local communities.

The project commenced on 11th & 12th January 2018 with a successful kick off meeting in Cyprus where the partners further organized the next steps of the two year project!
